Convention Will Be Held in September to Perfect Organization-Building of Mammoth Warehouses Contemplated.

Chicago, Aug. 20.-Plans for combining farmers, fruit growers, dairymen and all other producers of natural food products into one national organization were considered at a conference here between representatives of several farmers' co-operative associations. This movement has for its purpose the maintaining of prices, the control of distribution of products and the saving of large sums of money paid in commissions.

The plan under consideration contemplates the erection of grain elevators and cold storage warehouses in all parts of the country, where products may be held if necessary until such times as they can be marketed at a fair price. As a result of the conference it was decided to hold a farmers' convention in Chicago, Sept. 8, to consider detailed plans of organi-

Conference in Chicago Discusses Plans for Protection of Agriculturists.

BETTER PRICES FOR PRODUCTS

Convention Will Be Held in September to Perfect Organization-Building of Mammoth Warehouses Contemplated.

Chicago, Aug. 20 .- Plans for combining farmers, fruit growers, dairymen and all other producers of natural food products into one national organization were considered at a conference here between representatives of several farmers' co-operative assoclations. This movement has for its purpose the maintaining of prices, the control of distribution of products and the saving of large sums of money paid in commissions.

The plan under consideration contemplates the erection of grain elevators and cold storage warehouses in all parts of the country, where products may be held if necessary until such times as they can be marketed at a fair price. # BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other dis-

Journalists are born and not made. Joseph Pulitzer has made a magnificent gift to Columbia University to establish a school of journalism. It is calculated to be of vast benefit to the world. An editor needs to be familiar with literature, history, law, trade, commerce and all forms of industry, and the university can give him instruction that will help him, and help to raise his calling to the dignity of a profession. But men who become successful in newspaper work must learn a great deal that the schools cannot teach them, and those who want to succeed must learn the business, as Greeley and Dana and scores of others did, by practical experience. There is no royal road to success in this line, but instead a rugged path that only the courageous can climb. The universities can help, but they cannot cre-

W.C. WHITNEY'S IDEA

THINKS RICH MEN SHOULD SPEND THEIR INCOMES.

How the Retired Financier Is Occupied In His Declining Years-Devoted to His Children-Race Horses His Hobby.

William Collins Whitney, ex-secretary of the navy, multimillionaire and street railway magnate, who retired rom active work a year or so ago after being for more than a quarter of a century a conspicuously powerful figure in business and political life, is now at sixty-two enjoying a well earned rest from the toil of former years.

Mr. Whitney is one of the few very ich men of the country who take hings easily. He leaves the manage ment of his great interests to trusted lieutenants in and out of the family and devotes himself to the enityment of the vast fortune he has accumulated One of his pet hobbies is the training nd racing of thoroughbreds. The resirrection of Saratoga as a racing center great deal of money at Aiken, S. C where he has a large estate.

His principal country residence Wheatley Hills, is near Westbury, N Y., where he has immense stables for his thoroughbreds. Like all the great country places near New York, Wheat ey Hills is not intended merely for summer use. Country life among the fashionable no longer means a few months in hot weather, but continues, with few breaks, all the year round. The Whitney place is notable for the many house parties held during the winter holidays and over many Saturdays and Sundays during the cold months. Mr. Whitney's new town house in Fifth avenue, New York alongside of Central park, is one of the finest in the city, and an invitation to one of its owner's famous entertainments is a favor eagerly sought.

On one occasion Mr. Whitney, in answer to a banker friend, who alluded to the lavish style in which he enter tained, said: "I have the money and can afford these expenditures. The are one of my ways of helping people It is better to give employment than alms. I believe it to be the duty of every rich man to spend as much as he can afford and to help trade along. Then all will prosper.'

When Mr. Whitney, in the zenith of is power in the financial world and retirement the statement caused the greatest surprise. His intimates could not understand why a man who was in perfect physical condition should not remain at work, but in a few words he explained that he intended to devote the rest of his life to rest and en joyment among his children and horses, and he has remained firm in that determination.

Mr. Whitney is a native of Conway Mass., but has lived in New York since 1864. He is a Yale graduate and a Harvard Law school man. As secre tary of the navy, appointed by Presi national reputation by his masterly who, by devising a system of con tracts by which one concern might bie for all the steel to be used both in the construction of the vessel itself and in its armament, made it possible for armored vessels to be built entirely in this country. It was this system that provided the ships with which the Spanish war was fought and won.

Mr. Whitney has been married twice His first wife was a daughter of the wealthy Senator Payne of Ohio, one of the Standard Oil men of his day. His second wife was Mrs. Randolph, who had been one of the beautiful Misses May, relatives of the Jays and the Oel richses of New York and noted for their love of outdoor sports. She died as the result of an accident met while following the hounds at Aiken, S. C. Of Mr. Whitney's four children only

Journalists are born and not made. Joseph Pulitzer has made a magnificent gift to Columbia University to establish a school of journalism. It is calculated to be of vast benefit to the world. An editor needs to be familiar with literature, history, law, trade, commerce and all forms of industry, and the university can give him instruction that will help him, and help to raise his calling to the dignity of a profession. But men who become successful in newspaper work must learn a great deal that the schools cannot teach them, and those who want to succeed must learn the business, as Greeley and Dana and scores of others did, by practical experience. There is no royal road to success in this line, but instead a rugged path that only the courageous can climb. The universities can help, but they cannot cre-

From its earliest beginning the church has sought to make some provision for such necessities. When five years after its organization, it created in 1789 its publishing business, with a minister, Rev. John Dickens, in charge on a salary of $600, whose only capital was $600 borrowed from himself, it ordered that all proceeds above the needs of the business should be applied to "the relief of ineffective, supernumerary, and superannuated ministers, their wives widows and children." From what humble beginning the publishing business of the church, technically owned PER CENT. by the ministers, and with some of their numbers always as its principal managers, has grown until it now has a cash capital of over $3,000,000, and distributes from $50,000 to $100,000 the News Review.

W. C. WHITNEY'S IDEA

THINKS RICH MEN SHOULD SPEND THEIR INCOMES.

How the Retired Financier Is Occupied In His Declining Years-Devoted to His Children-Race Horses His Hobby.

William Collins Whitney, ex-secretary of the navy, multimillionaire and street railway magnate, who retired from active work a year or so ago after being for more than a quarter of a century a conspicuously powerful figure in business and political life, is now at sixty-two enjoying a well earned rest from the toil of former years.

Mr. Whitney is one of the few very rich men of the country who take things easily. He leaves the management of his great interests to trusted lieutenants in and out of the family and devotes himself to the enterment of the vast fortune he has accumulated. One of his pet hobbies is the training and racing of thoroughbreds. The resurrection of Saratoga as a racing center is his work, and he is also spending a great deal of money at Aiken, S. C. where he has a large estate. His principal country residence

Wheatley Hills, is near Westbury, N Y., where he has immense stables for his thoroughbreds. Like all the great country places near New York, Wheat ey Hills is not intended merely for summer use. Country life among the fashionable no longer means a few months in hot weather, but continues, with few breaks, all the year round. The Whitney place is notable for the many house parties held during the winter holidays and over many Saturdays and Sundays during the cold months. Mr. Whitney's new town house in Fifth avenue, New York, alongside of Central park, is one of the finest in the city, and an invitation to one of its owner's famous entertainments is a favor eagerly sought.

On one occasion Mr. Whitney, in answer to a banker friend, who alluded to the lavish style in which he entertained, said: "I have the money and can afford these expenditures. They are one of my ways of helping people. It is better to give employment than alms. I believe it to be the duty of every rich man to spend as much as he can afford and to help trade along. Then all will prosper."

When Mr. Whitney, in the zenith of his power in the financial world and

but a little over sixty, announced his retirement the statement caused the greatest surprise. His intimates could not understand why a man who was in perfect physical condition should not remain at work, but in a few words he explained that he intended to de vote the rest of his life to rest and enjoyment among his children and norses, and he has remained firm in that determination.

Mr. Whitney is a native of Conway. Mass., but has lived in New York since 1864. He is a Yale graduate and a Harvard Law school man. As secre tary of the navy, appointed by Presi dent Cleveland in 1885, he made national reputation by his masterly administration of that office. It was be who, by devising a system of contracts by which one concern might bid for all the steel to be used both in the construction of the vessel itself and in its armament, made it possible for armored vessels to be built entirely in this country. It was this system that provided the ships with which the Spanish war was fought and won.

Mr. Whitney has been married twice His first wife was a daughter of the wealthy Senator Payne of Ohio, one of the Standard Oil men of his day. His second wife was Mrs. Randolph, who had been one of the beautiful Misses May, relatives of the Jays and the Oel richses of New York and noted for their love of outdoor sports. She died as the result of an accident met while following the hounds at Aiken, S. C.

Of Mr. Whitney's four children only one, Dorothy, is unmarried. Harry Payne, the oldest, married Miss Ger trude Vanderbilt; the second son, Payne, is the husband of one of Sec retary of State Hay's daughters, and 196-i his oldest daughter is Mrs. Almeric Paget.

Philadelphia, Aug. 20.-The coroner concluded his investigation into the accident at the Philadelphia National league baseball park on Aug. 8, which resulted in the death of 12 persons and the injury of nearly 300 others. During the progress of a game on that day a boardwalk at the top left field seats projecting over the street collapsed, precipitating several hundred spectators into the street. The verdict of the coroner's jury was in part as follows:

"We find that the accident was due to the rotten condition of the supporting timbers of the balcony and we further find that the Philadelphia Baseball club, limited—the forme: owners-was responsible for not having a thorough examination made of these timbers throughout the time of their ownership, and in stating at the time of the transfer that the buildings were in first-class condition."

Conductor Martin Plunged Into the Mouth of a Sewer and Nearly Drowned. Conductor J. W. Martin, of the Rock Springs railway, came near being drowned last night during the storm which was much more severe in Ches ter than anywhere else in the commu nity. The railway men were busily engaged in piloting the ladies at the park through the several inches of water at the park entrance, and Mr. Martin was in the act of handing a party of women onto a car when he fell into the mouth of a storm water sewer, and was nearly drowned before help could reach him.

The hole is very deep, and Martin went into it over his head. Motorman Jim Mays and several other street car men hastened to the rescue of their fellow workman, and he was dragged from his perilous position more dead than alive. He was carried to the car barn, where he revived in a short time and is entirely recovered today.

"We began to use Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills six years ago. My wife had liver trouble and a neighbor gave her some of your liver pills to try, after which we bought a bottle of them and my wife used them un-til cured. Since then I have used them and I must say that I have never used any pills that gave me the satisfaction these have. We also use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills with greatest satisfaction. Three years ago our son Harry had inflammatory rheumatism. Raid on the Greenville Team Resulted in Securing Best Players of That Aggregation.

That New Castle team, which is to contest with the preachers at West End park tomorrow and Saturday, lost a close game Tuesday to the Ohio Works team, at Youngstown, by a score of 5 to 4. When the team reaches this city it will be much stronger than it has been this season as a resuit of the raid the New Castle manager has made on the strong Greenville team. The choice players of that aggregation has been won away from Greenville and as a result some of the New Castle regulars have been given the can.

In the games tomorrow and Saturas in the past few games, an arrangement of the players that has proved very satisfactory to the fans. Gibson seems to have found his true position out in left garden and Wallace has made good in right. Neither player has made an error since the change. Manager Reark in middle completes a mighty strong outfield. Houser at second has added a tower of strength to the infield. Webb, at second has fielded his position better than any other player who has held down the bag for the locals this season and in the whole realm of sport there is not a better fielding first sacker than Big Heck.

During the past two weeks the loing the greatest improvment. Winters will be on the slab for the locals in the opener and Lawrence will pitch called the mainstay of the twirling department and if he is in his usual condition the locals should win handily. Lawrence is now pitching better ball than at any time this season and Works base ball team will be serious as follows:

East Liverpool-Winters, pitcher; Heckathorn, first base; Webb, second versity, and Peter Daly goes to the field; Reark, middle field and Wallace, Haute. The absence of these men right field.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills

"We began to use Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills six years ago. My wife had liver trouble and a neighbor gave her some of your liver pills to try, after which we bought a bottle of them and my wife used them un-til cured. Since then I have used them and I must say that I have never used any pills that gave me the satisfaction these have. We also use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills with greatest satisfaction. Three years ago our son Harry had inflammatory rheumatism. He had suffered so much that I believe if we had not given him Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills which relieved him almost instantly he would have died. I am always glad of the opportunity for praising Dr. Miles' Remedies."—

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy American globe trotter, siumbles into ac quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the fler stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the traip. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. HI.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreignets the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lerry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American sritsi in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later hef receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduet the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princelom of Axphain 330,000,000. The creditor dem

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy American globe trotter, stumbles into ac quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the fler stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lerry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glange of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later hef receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princes and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself-to-most he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. A

TATTERED FLACS BORNE ALOFT

Empty Sleeves and Limping Gait Eloquent Reminders of Sorrow and Glory of War-Every Corner of Nation Represented.

San Francisco, Aug. 20.-Ten thou associated organs of sand survivors of the Civil war passed in review, marching to the martial tunes that inspired them to endeavor 40 years ago. Above the national colors, borne by every marcher, proudly floated torn and tattered flags. These, sluggishness, irritability, nervousness and with empty sleeves and limping gait, were eloquent reminders of the sorrow and glory of war. Unlike the parade of Tuesday, with the quick taarching line of youth, this proces sion was the measured and steady tread of age. As the different divisions marched along waves of sentiment passed over marchers and spec tators. There were many still vigorous in line, but they waited for their weaker comrades and the column halted often on its two-mile course.

In the long line were men from every corner of the nation. Of all the states. California excepted, the one Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness, that had the largest number in line was Illinois, but Ohio was a close second.

Almost every delegation had its emthe supposed murderer. They were blem, Ohio its buckeye, Connecticut virtually prisoners, and they knew it a wooden nutmeg. Minnesota a loaf of well, Furthermore, they could see that bread, and so on indefinitely. There Baron Dangloss believed Lorry guilty was something distinctive to each of the murder. Protestations of inno- group. The men from Vermont, "the Green mountain state," bore a line of seven green banners, each containing "Do you expect one of his friends to a letter, the whole spelling the name of the state.

One thousand men marched under the yellow banner of Illinois. At the head marched Colonel Thomas G. Lawler, past commander-in-chief of the Grand Army. The Wisconsin division was led by General Arthur Mac-Arthur in civilian clothes.

Pennsylvania headed the second division. Here and there in the line bottoms of their hearts, and you will appeared a bucktail, indicating the presence of a survivor of the famous First Pennsylvania rifles, "The Bucktails." The New York section followed Pennsylvania.led by John S. Koster.

> The United States maimed soldiers' organization met in Temple hall, but the attendance was unexpectedly small. After Comrade Story had explained the work done by the order to secure increased pensions for disabled veterans an adjournment was taken.

> A few survivors of the famous "Iron Brigade" of the army of the Potomao assembled in Pioneer hall, their session being of a special character.

In the evening thousands attended a vocal and instrumental concert at

Taglioni as Mrs. Carlyle Saw Her. In the "New Letters and Memorials of Jane Welsh Carlyle" is the following quaint and caustic comment on Ta-

"I saw a very curious sight the other night, the only one I have been to for a long time-viz, some thousands of the grandest and most cultivated people in England, all gazing in ecstasy and applauding to death over a woman not even pretty, balancing herself on the extreme point of one great toe and stretching the other foot high into the air, much higher than decency ever dreamt of. It was Taglioni, our chief dancer at the opera, and this is her chief feat, repeated over and over to weariness-at least to my weariness at her feet, and not a man, except Carlyle, who did not seem disposed to fling himself. I counted twenty-five bouquets! But what of that? The empress of all the Russias once in a fit of enthusiasm flung her diamond bracelet at the feet of this same Taglioni-"virtue its own reward" (in this world)? Dancing is and singing and some other things still more frivolous.

Strange to say, however, it is in times of peace that revenue cutters fight their hardest battles. They save many lives and property that is estimated at many millions yearly. Their name gives little idea of the great and varied service they render the country.

They Paid the Price.

The corporation of the city of Glasgow wanted to purchase the Whistler portrait of Carlyle and in due course waited on the master of the gentle art of making enemies about the price of making enemies about the price (1,000 guineas). They admitted it was magnificent picture, but "Do you not think, Mr. Whistler, the sum a wee, wee bit excessive?"

"Didn't you know the price before you came to me?" asked the master with suspicious blandness. "Oh, aye, we knew that!" replied the corporation.

"Very well, then," said Mr. Whistler in his suavest tones, "let's talk of something else." And as there was nothing else of interest to detain the 'corporation' they paid the price and-

Polish Wedding Customs. According to the Polish custom, the marriage ceremony usually occurs on a Sunday, this being done to permit the men to attend without losing any time from their employment, while the bride is supposed to maintain the greatest secrecy concerning her wedding until she is actually clad in her wedding garments of thin white and bridal veil. Then she goes from house to house, regardless of the conditions of the weather, and invites her friends to her wedding, which, of course, is pay bowl is placed in the center of the table upon which the feast is spread and each man whom the bride honors easy of access, within one minute's walk of north side street car line. It was Taglioni, our chief dancer at the opera, and this is her chief feat, repeated over and over to weariness-at least to my weariness. But duchesses were flinging bouquets at her feet, and not a man, except Carlyle, who did not seem disposed to fling himself. I counted twenty-five bouquets! But what of that? The empress of all the Russias once in a fit of enthusiasm flung her diamond bracelet at the feet of this same Taglioni-"virtue its own reward" (in this world)? Dancing is and singing and

Convention Will Be Held in September to Perfect Organization-Building of Mammoth Warehouses Con templated.

Chicago, Aug. 20.-Plans for combining farmers, fruit growers, dairymen and all other producers of natural food products into one national organization were considered at a conference here between representatives of several farmers' co-operative assoclations. This movement has for its purpose the maintaining of prices, the control of distribution of products and the saving of large sums of money paid in commissions.

The plan under consideration contemplates the erection of grain elevators and cold storage warehouses in all parts of the country, where products may be held if necessary until such times as they can be marketed at a fair price. As a result of the conference it was decided to hold a farmers' convention in Chicago, Sept. 8. to consider detailed plans of organi-

Date Set for Picnic.

District Deputy A. P. Myler, of the Tribe of Ben Hur, has received word from Pittsburg that the big reunion of the order, comprising lodges of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, will be held at Rock Springs park on September 3. The arrangements have already been made with the management for the grounds on this date. Negotiations are now pending with the railroad company for excursion trains. The picnic will be one of the largest at the park this season.

BECOMING

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. $1.00 per bottle. Book

Journalists are born and not made Joseph Pulitzer has made a magnificent gift to Columbia University to establish a school of journalism. It is calculated to be of vast benefit to the world. An editor needs to be familiar with literature, history, law, trade, commerce and all forms of industry, and the university can give him instruction that will help him. and help to raise his cailing to the dignity of a profession. But men who become successful in newspaper work must learn a great deal that the schools cannot teach them, and those who want to succeed must learn the business, as Greeley and Dana and scores of others did, by practical experience. There is no royal road to success in this line, but instead a rugged path that only the courageous can climb. The universities can help, but they cannot cre-

W.C. WHITNEY'S IDEA

THINKS RICH MEN SHOULD SPEND THEIR INCOMES.

How the Retired Financier Is Occupied In His Declining Years-Devoted to His Children-Race Horses His Hobby.

William Collins Whitney, ex-secretary of the navy, multimillionaire and street railway magnate, who retired from active work a year or so ago after being for more than a quarter of a century a conspicuously powerful figure in business and political life, is now at sixty-two enjoying a well earned rest from the toil of former years.

Mr. Whitney is one of the few very rich men of the country who take things easily. He leaves the management of his great interests to trusted lieutenants in and out of the family and devotes himself to the enterment of the vast fortune he has accumulated. One of his pet hobbies is the training and racing of thoroughbreds. The res urrection of Saratoga as a racing center is his work, and he is also spending a great deal of money at Aiken, S. C., where he has a large estate. His principal country residence,

Wheatley Hills, is near Westbury, N. Y., where he has immense stables for his thoroughbreds. Like all the great country places near New York, Wheatley Hills is not intended merely for summer use. Country life among the fashionable no longer means a few months in hot weather, but continues, with few breaks, all the year round. The Whitney place is notable for the many house parties held during the winter holidays and over many Saturdays and Sundays during the cold months. Mr. Whitney's new town house in Fifth avenue. New York. alongside of Central park, is one of the finest in the city, and an invitation to one of its owner's famous entertainments is a favor eagerly sought.

On one occasion Mr. Whitney, in answer to a banker friend, who alluded to the lavish style in which he entertained, said: "I have the money and can afford these expenditures. They are one of my ways of helping people It is better to give employment than alms. I believe it to be the duty of every rich man to spend as much as he can afford and to help trade along. Then all will prosper."

When Mr. Whitney, in the zenith of his power in the financial world and

but a little over sixty, announced his retirement the statement caused the greatest surprise. His intimates could not understand why a man who was in perfect physical condition should not remain at work, but in a few words he explained that he intended to devote the rest of his life to rest and enjoyment among his children and horses, and he has remained firm in

Mass., but has lived in New York since 1864. He is a Yale graduate and a Harvard Law school man. As secretary of the navy, appointed by Presi dent Cleveland in 1885, he made a national reputation by his masterly administration of that office. It was he who, by devising a system of contracts by which one concern might bid for all the steel to be used both in the construction of the vessel itself and in its armament, made it possible for armored vessels to be built entirely in this country. It was this system that provided the ships with which the Spanish war was fought and won

Mr. Whitney has been married twice His first wife was a daughter of the wealthy Senator Payne of Ohio, one of the Standard Oil men of his day. His second wife was Mrs. Randolph, who had been one of the beautiful Misses May, relatives of the Jays and the Oel richses of New York and noted for their love of outdoor sports. She died as the result of an accident met while following the hounds at Aiken, S. C.

DEATH DUST ...Roaches...

A big, black roach, is a big, mean nuisance; and the sooner they are driven out or killed, the better. They not only eat food and spoil infinitely more than they cat, but they destroy many fine things, such as book covers, etc. Numerous are the ways and means employed to rid premises and places of them but without permanent result.

The very best thing to kill roaches is Death Dust.

It kills them in their tracks before they reach their haunts. Sprinkle it freely about the places they are seen. They breathe it and DIE. Just what every good housekeeper wants them to do.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy American globe trotter, stumbles into ac quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the fier stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lerry her 'Ideal American' and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a heautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later hef receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggen slocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself-increase of the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself-increase of the plotters red handed. They save many lives and property that is estimated at many millions yearly. Their name gives little idea of the great and varied service they render the country.

They Paid the Price.

The corporation of the city of Glasgow wanted to purchase the Whistler portrait of Carlyle and in due course waited on the master of the gentle art of making enemies about the price (1,000 guineas). They admitted it was a magnificent picture, but "Do you not think, Mr. Whistler, the sum a wee, wee bit excessive?"

"Didn't you know the price before you came to me?" asked the master with suspicious blandness.

"Oh, aye, we knew that!" replied the corporation.

'Very well, then," said Mr. Whistler in his suavest tones, "let's talk of something else." And as there was nothing else of interest to detain the "corporation" they paid the price andtrust a Glaswegian-made an excellent bargain.

Showing the Way. "Whose little boy is this, I wonder?" asked the old gentleman.

FARMERS TO COMBINE

Conference in Chicago Discusses Plans for Protection of Agriculturists.

BETTER PRICES FOR PRODUCTS

Convention Will Be Held in September to Perfect Organization-Building of Mammoth Warehouses Contemplated.

Chicago, Aug. 20 .- Plans for combining farmers, fruit growers, dairymen and all other producers of natural food products into one national organization were considered at a conference here between representatives of several farmers' co-operative assoclations. This movement has for its purpose the maintaining of prices, the control of distribution of products and the saving of large sums of money paid in commissions.

The plan under consideration contemplates the erection of grain elevators and cold storage warehouses in all parts of the country, where products may be held if necessary until such times as they can be marketed at a fair price. As a result of the conference it was decided to hold a farmers' convention in Chicago, Sept. 8 to consider detailed plans of organi-

Journalists are born and not made Joseph Pulitzer has made a magnificent gift to Columbia University to establish a school of journalism. It is calculated to be of vast benefit to the world. An editor needs to be fa miliar with literature, history, law, trade, commerce and all forms of industry, and the university can give him instruction that will help him, and help to raise his cailing to the dignity of a profession. But men who become successful in newspaper work must learn a great deal that the schools cannot teach them, and those who want to succeed must learn the business, as Greeley and Dana and scores of others did, by practical experience. There is no royal road to success in this line, but instead a rugged path that only the courageous can climb. The universities can help, but they cannot cre

THINKS RICH MEN SHOULD SPEND THEIR INCOMES.

How the Retired Financier Is Occupied In His Declining Years-Devoted to His Children-Race Horses

William Collins Whitney, ex-secretary of the navy, multimillionaire and street railway magnate, who retired from active work a year or so ago after being for more than a quarter of a century a conspicuously powerful figure in business and political life, is now at sixty-two enjoying a well earned rest from the toil of former years. Mr. Whitney is one of the few very rich men of the country who take things easily. He leaves the management of his great interests to trusted lieutenants in and out of the family and devotes himself to the enterment of the vast fortune he has accumulated One of his pet hobbies is the training and racing of thoroughbreds. The resurrection of Saratoga as a racing center is his work, and he is also spending great deal of money at Aiken, S. C where he has a large estate. His principal country residence

Wheatley Hills, is near Westbury, N Y., where he has immense stables for his thoroughbreds. Like all the great country places near New York, Wheat ey Hills is not intended merely for summer use. Country life among the fashionable no longer means a few months in hot weather, but continues with few breaks, all the year round The Whitney place is notable for the many house parties held during the winter holidays and over many Saturdays and Sundays during the cold months. Mr. Whitney's new town house in Fifth avenue, New York, alongside of Central park, is one of the finest in the city, and an invitation to one of its owner's famous entertainments is a favor eagerly sought.

On one occasion Mr. Whitney, in an swer to a banker friend, who alluded to the lavish style in which he entertained, said: "I have the money and can afford these expenditures. They are one of my ways of helping people It is better to give employment than alms. I believe it to be the duty of every rich man to spend as much as he can afford and to help trade along. Then all will prosper.

When Mr. Whitney, in the zenith of is power in the financial world and

but a little over sixty, announced his retirement the statement caused the greatest surprise. His intimates could not understand why a man who was in perfect physical condition should not remain at work, but in a few words he explained that he intended to devote the rest of his life to rest and enjoyment among his children and horses, and he has remained firm in that determination.

Mr. Whitney is a native of Conway Mass., but has lived in New York since 1864. He is a Yale graduate and a Harvard Law school man. As secre tary of the navy, appointed by Presi dent Cleveland in 1885, he made a national reputation by his masterly administration of that office. It was he who, by devising a system of contracts by which one concern might bid for all the steel to be used both in the construction of the vessel itself and in its armament, made it possible for armored vessels to be built entirely in this country. It was this system that provided the ships with which the Spanish war was fought and won.

Mr. Whitney has been married twice His first wife was a daughter of the wealthy Senator Payne of Ohio, one of the Standard Oil men of his day. His second wife was Mrs. Randolph, who Repairer of Umbrellas and Par had been one of the beautiful Misses May, relatives of the Jays and the Oel richses of New York and noted for their love of outdoor sports. She died as the result of an accident met while following the hounds at Aiken, S. C.

CLUB STRENCTHENED FOR THE CAMES HERE

Raid on the Greenvillo Team Resulted in Securing Best Players of That Aggregation.

That New Castle team, which is to contest with the preachers at West End park tomorrow and Saturday, lost a close game Tuesday to the Ohio Works team, at Youngstown, by a this summer. A series some time latscore of 5 to 4. When the team reach- er would prove a drawing card. es this city it will be much stronger than it has been this season as a re- give patrons of the sport an opporsult of the raid the New Castle manager has made on the strong Greenville team. The choice players of that aggregation has been won away from lyn Nationals, for a game here on the Greenville and as a result some of the 21st of September. The Trolley New Castle regulars have been given Dodgers play in Pittsburg about that the can.

Gibson seems to have found his true position out in left garden and Wallace has made good in right. Neither player has made an error since the change. Manager Reark in middle completes a mighty strong outfield. Houser at second has added a tower of strength to the infield. Webb, at second has fielded his position better than any other player who has held down the bag for the locals this season and in the whole realm of sport there is not a better fielding first sacker than Big Heck

During the past two weeks the locals have been swatting the ball good and hard, Reark and Heckathern showing the greatest improvment. Winters will be on the slab for the locals in the opener and Lawrence will pitch on Saturday. The former can well be that he can play again before the sec called the mainstay of the twirling department and if he is in his usual condition the locals should win handily. Lawrence is now pitching better fool the batsmen. The lineups will be as follows:

East Liverpool-Winters, pitcher; Etamering, catcher; Houser, short; Hughes will return to Wooster Uni Heckathorn, first base; Webb, second base; Brown, third base; Gibson, left field; Reark, middle field and Wallace, Haute. The absence of these mer

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy American globe trotter, stumbles into ac quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the fler stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lerry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American srtist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glange of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later hef receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess. X.—Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. ### Polish Wedding Customs.

According to the Polish custom, the marriage ceremony usually occurs on a Sunday, this being done to permit the men to attend without losing any time is supposed to maintain the greatest secrecy concerning her wedding until she is actually clad in her wedding garments of thin white and bridal veil. Then she goes from house to house, regardless of the conditions of the weather, and invites her friends to the course of the reception, a china bowl is placed in the center of the and each man whom the bride honors with a waltz understands that he is to throw with all his might and main a senger boys generally for the governbeing to break it, and the man who is so fortunate as to shatter the vessel is entitled to the farewell dance and a when he was secretary of the treasury, kiss from the bride. While the custom is curious it is none the less practical, as it is not an infrequent thing they are still under treasury depart-

"I saw a very curious sight the other night, the only one I have been to for a long time-viz, some thousands of the grandest and most cultivated people in England, all gazing in ecstasy and applauding to death over a woman not even pretty, balancing herself on the extreme point of one great toe and stretching the other foot high into the air, much higher than decency ever dreamt of. It was Taglioni, our chief dancer at the opera, and this is her chief feat, repeated over and over to weariness-at least to my weariness But duchesses were flinging bouquets at her feet, and not a man, except Car lyle, who did not seem disposed to fling himself. I counted twenty-five bouquets! But what of that? The empress of all the Russias once in a fit of enthusiasm flung her diamond bracelet at the feet of this same Taglioni-"virtue its own reward" (in this

They also enforce quarantine regulations, examine ships' papers, supply lighthouses and act as life savers, ambulance corps, fire departme The first revenue cutters were built at the order of Alexander Hamilton and except in war time, when they are subject to the authority of the navy, ters fight their hardest battles. They save many lives and property that is estimated at many millions yearly. Their name gives little idea of the great and varied service they render the country.

They Paid the Price.

The corporation of the city of Glasgow wanted to purchase the Whistler portrait of Carlyle and in due course waited on the master of the gentle art of making enemies about the price (1,000 guineas). They admitted it was magnificent picture, but "Do you not think, Mr. Whistler, the sum a wee, wee bit excessive?"

"Didn't you know the price before you came to me?" asked the master ! with suspicious blandness.

"Oh, aye, we knew that!" replied the corporation.

"Very well, then," said Mr. Whistler in his suavest tones, "let's talk of something else." And as there was nothing else of interest to detain the 'corporation" they paid the price andtrust a Glaswegian-made an excellent
